Decide to Keep On Using ICE RIGHT Through the Winter

Experience has taught so many women the folly of trying to get along without ICE in winter. Window boxes, cellars, and other makeshifts are so wasteful of food.

Not only that, they menace Health. ICE Refrigeration protects foods from dust, germs, and prowling animals. ICE Refrigeration prevents food spoilage and preserves natural flavors.

For just a few cents a day, you can have all the ICE you need to keep your foods appetizing and SAFE to eat. And also have a surplus for ample table service. ICE that's Pure, and Clear, and Sparkling!

feet. Porter aped through the entire Pelham team. Chastain kicked the extra point and the Bulldogs were out in front 7-5

The Hornets received the next kick-off. Blalock speeding back with it to the Pelham 30 where Horton downed him.

The Hornets were unable to gain and punted out on Thomasville's 41. Letchas went in for Porter in the Thomasville backfield. Hancock got 2 yards at right end and then circled left end for 16 yards and a first down at Pelham's 37. Hill, Hinder and Smith, Briley and White, varsity men, went in for Thomasville. A passing attack failed and Hancock punted over Pelham's goal line.

Pass Gets Touchdown.

A holding penalty set the Bulldogs back and the Hornets pointed to mid-field. The Bulldogs bogged down and Hancock kicked back over the goal line again—Taking the ball on a punt exchange the Bulldogs launched a drive from their own 30, marching 64 yards for a touchdown with the drive being culminated by a touchdown pass that Hancock threw from the 26-yard line to White who took it at the 10 and stepped across the goal line.

There was no more scoring in the second quarter, although the Bulldogs with Runyan and Letchas leading the drive, went down to the Pelham 11 where Letchas fumbled, the Hornets recovering and kicking out of danger.

In the third period the Bulldogs went down to the Hornets 1-yard line where Darby fumbled, Hester recovering for Pelham and Shiver punting out to the Pelham 44.

Another Score

From there, Runyan got 15 yards at center for a first down at the Pelham 25. Isaacs picked up 7 at left end, and Letchas went through center for 13. Horton on a quarterback sneak to the 2-yard line, Darby scoring from that point and Letchas kicking the point to make the score Thomasville 19, Pelham 0.

And Another

Starting from their 32-yard stripe in the fourth period the Hornets began marching again in a sustained drive paced by Letchas and Runyan. Placing the ball in scoring position were two passes, Letchas to Runyan, the second aerial enabling Runyan to reach the 1-yard line where he was downed. Isaacs plunged over the touchdown. Letchas kicked the point and the score was 26-0.

After a punt exchange following the next kick-off, the Jersey lads started again, this time from the Pelham 44. A pass, Letchas to Isaacs got 14 yards and a first down at the Pelham 29.

On the Move

Letchas zammed through on three plays for a first down at the Hornets 17. Runyan got 8 more at right end and Letchas made it first down at the 6-yard line. In two more line smashes, Letchas drove over for a touchdown. Jarrell's try for the extra point failed by the score was 33-0

The game ended soon afterward with the Bulldogs holding the ball on Pelham's 39-yard line.

Democratic nominees for Congress have republican or independent opposition in the fifth, seventh, eighth and ninth districts.

In a few instances, democratic candidates for the state legislature will have opposition, and in several counties, in the northern part of the state, where no primaries were held, democrats, republicans and independents will fight it out for county offices.

CAMPAIGN ROARS ON TOWARD ITS CLIMACTIC

Mr. Roosevelt. Only a few days ago the inventor's widow, now Mrs. Edward E. Hughes, spoke at a Landon rally.

The campaign also has loosened the purse strings of contributors as perhaps never before, and the drive has become the costliest in history. The major parties already have reported a total expenditure of nearly $10,000,000, with large sums being spent by other organizations.

Expressions of confidence were issued from both camps. John D. M. Hamilton, republican national chairman, said there was "a nation-wide sweep—for—Governor—Landon"—and against the "Roosevelt-Farley political machine." Hugh S. Johnson said "It's doubtful whether Governor Landon will carry six states—it's another landslide."

FDR APPEALS FOR SUPPORT TO NEW DEAL'S "PROGRAM OF UNITY" AT BROOKLYN

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—President Roosevelt checked up new on his home state's election outlook today after warming up for his last big campaign speech here tonight with a Brooklyn appeal to support what he called the New Deal's "program of unity."

A forenoon call at democratic national headquarters for conferences with party chiefs and a brief talk to women leaders in the Bronx were charted for him before his major address in Madison Square Garden.

That his speech tonight would be another sharply worded blast at the republican leadership and an outline of New Deal "achievements" was the consensus of presidential intimates.

Such was the tone of his 4,300-word address last night in the jammed Academy of Music in Brooklyn.

He asserted the administration had brought about a "more united America" by assuring all groups together, and that as administrations had "fostered" differentiation between classes

About mid-way in his speech, Mr. Roosevelt raised his hand as if to hush a booing of Alfred E. Smith, whose name was shouted by a gallerite.

The president had just concluded a statement that the "republican leadership, driving to desperation and urged on by the same sinister forces which generation after generation have opposed all social legislation, now repudiate their own representatives and senators in the halls of Congress and have them looking positively silly."

That includes Al Smith," said a man in a lower balcony.

"Step up," yelled several in the audience.

He said the social security law had received the support of 77 republicans in the house and 16 in the senate and only 18 of that party voted against it in the house, with 5 in the senate.

That fact, he added, was "perhaps illustrative of the paradox" in the closing days of the campaign that saw republican leaders repudiating that group of 92 in their own party.

LANDON CASTS HIS EYES ON MISSOURI'S VOTES

By HUGH WAGNER

Aboard Landon special enroute to St. Louis, Oct. 31 (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon drafted the final summation of his presidential campaign tour against the New Deal today for Halloween delivery in St. Louis, his eyes cast on Missouri's 15 electoral votes.

The republican nominee appealed for support of "real democrats" as he campaigned through West Virginia, enroute to Missouri's biggest city to meet his wife.

The Kansas governor reserved the morning hours for visiting with Mrs. Landon, leaving the afternoon for conferences with party leaders before delivering his address in the municipal auditorium. This speech will be broadcast nationally, 9:30 to 10 p. m. (central standard time).

Landon capped his West Virginia speech with a station (platform speech) [illegible]

NEW YORK STOCK LETTER

By VICTOR DUBANKE
Associated Press Financial Writer

New York, Oct. 31—Election arguments boiled in the boardrooms today but the stock market was unable to work up any great amount of steam on either the buying or selling sides.

Traders favored a few farm implements, merchandising, copper and specialty issues for gains of fractional to a point or so and neglected many of the leaders. Transfers approximated 700,000 shares.

While business news was still pleasing to recovery proponents, brokers found some of their customers were rather timid about extending themselves pending the outcome of Tuesday's voting.

West coast labor troubles were also a fly in the generally optimistic ointment, not because of any immediate effect on stocks but from the standpoint of possible later repercussions.

The tone started at a fast gait, soon encountered light offerings and settled down to a new key.

Bonds and commodities were somewhat uneven and foreign currencies held to a restricted range.

Shares on the upside throughout most of the session included J. I. Case, Deere, International Harvester, Crosley Corporation, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Kennecott, Hiaud Copper, Anaconda Copper, Johns-Manville, Calumet & Hecla, Int. Paper, Westinghouse, Goodyear, American Telephone, International Telephone, St. Joseph Lead, Western Union, Int. Nickel and Douglas Aircraft.

U. S. Steel lost about a point at its worst as did Santa Fe, Louisville & Nashville at Youngstown, Sheet & Tube, Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Consolidated Edison, North American, American Water Works, Punjab sugar, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific.

fine distinguishments of worthy forebearers. His position in life had been one of exceptional social freedom and it was from this home and fireside that he gained so many of the courteous habits and kindly traits that made him a well beloved and most popular man, here as everywhere but more particularly here where his labors were not in vain but did much to care for him a niche of splendid color and tone. It was here that he met and married Miss Lucile Freeman, a teacher in the schools, native of Forsythe, Ga. The wedding occured only a year ago, the ceremony having been performed in Forsythe, October 19th 1935. Surviving are his wife and his mother and father. There are also the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Gertrude Crawford, Toccoa; Mrs. Hoyt Brown, Bailey; Mrs. Butler Morris, Greenville, Ga., Mrs. R. C. Kytle, Gadsden, Ala., Mrs. Charles Moore, Greensboro, Ga.; Mrs. Josh Pruitt, Judson, S. C.; and the following brothers: C. H. Crawford of Chicago; Homer Crawford, Joe Crawford and Marvin Crawford all of Toccoa. All of the above survivors were present here during his last illness and in addition Mr. and Mrs. Robert Freeman of Miami and Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Freeman of Richmond, Va., relatives of Mrs. Crawford.

A striking personality, a vivid optimist, a tireless advocate of things that were sound and good and progressive he spent his few days here and gone on, leaving behind no memorial more definitely typical of his fine efforts than the affection and adoration of hundreds of people, who have felt his influence from his deeds and his kindness from even casual associations. It is with keen personal regret that many know of his death, many who may not have even known him well while he labored here but yet who were impressed with the vigor of his effort and the power of his spirit. As a churchman, a citizen and a friend he was a peerless example of that which commends itself to those who in passing through the storms and sunshine of life learned to love that which tempers, smoothes and eases the way for others.

TOWN OF ROSAS SHELLED
(By the Associated Press)

Fascists shelled the coast town of Rosas north of Barcelona, today in an attempt to land troops near the Catalan capital, reports to France said.

Government authorities were said to have stripped the border of men in hasty efforts to concentrate strength to resist the fascists in the northeast corner of Spain.

The reports said an insurgent destroyer entered the harbor and shelled fishermen's houses on the shore, killing several persons and causing heavy damage.

Terrorized inhabitants of Madrid abandoned the capital's streets after a sudden, unheralded air raid in which fascist planes bombed populous neighborhoods killing 50 persons, mostly women and children, and injuring at least 150 others.

The Madrid battle-fronts were quiet as government troops rested before renewing the assault on Torrejon de Velasco south of the capital.

Spanish neutrality threatened to 30 persons by shelling the coastlines.

MINER SICK IN ARCTIC GETS 'REMOTE CONTROL' TREATMENT BY WIRELESS

Edmonton, Alta., Oct. 31 (AP)—Out of the sub-Arctic today flashed a wireless message announcing temporary victory at least in the "remote control" battle for the life of Jim Parres, 24-year-old miner stricken with heart attacks.

"Pulse seems good and steady" said the message, tapped out from the snow-bound camp at Yellowknife Bay gold camp, 620 air miles north of Edmonton, where Parres suffered four severe heart seizures.

The sick man was near death when Bruce Marshall, wireless operator for Canadian Airways at Yellowknife Bay, sent out pleas for medical help.

With the gold camp isolated by the "in between" season, rendering the dispatch of a physician by plane impossible, Dr. C. O. Goggie, Edmonton heart specialist, relayed "bedside" instructions by radio.

Far to the north, in the rough-hewn mining camp on the shore of Great Slave Lake, two companions of the stricken man were following the physician's directions.

Whisky doses and "lots of strong black coffee", advised by Dr. Goggie, left the patient resting better today, Marshall reported.

"Jim says not necessary plane come in now and will wait until flying conditions again," Marshall wirelessed. "He has had no heart attacks since noon yesterday and he is eating a little now."

Moscow (AP)—A new method of vernalization of seed is claimed by a young scientist here.

He claims results by moistening seed to avert temperature where it is held for some time before planting. By this method it is claimed all stages of vegetation and maturation of plants has been accelerated from 3 to 7 days, an important factor in getting the harvests past maturity before summer heat waves parch the arid soil.

Perpignan, France, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Spanish insurgent cruiser Canarias, reappeared off the Bay of Rosas after an earlier battle with a government ship, was reported late today to have sunk a government gunboat with a single shell.

Spanish authorities said the gunboat was destroyed after it had opened fire on the cruiser for refusing to give its identity in Catalan waters.

An unconfirmed report said the Canarias was convoying freighters loaded with Moors, and planned to land them on the government coast.

Earlier, Catalan coastal batteries had driven the warship away from the Bay of Rosas shores after the cruiser had killed several fishermen and wounded 30 persons by shelling the coastlines.

TAXPAYERS' LEAGUE OFFICIAL FAVORS 15 - MILL LIMIT

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 31. (AP)—John P. Stewart, secretary of the Atlanta Taxpayers League, advocated adoption of the 15-mill tax limitation amendment on the ground of "needed tax reform in Georgia."

Speaking before the Georgia chapter of certified public accountants last night, Stewart said the present tax system is "antiquated and unsatisfactory," laying an "unfair and confiscatory burden" on real estate.

"If the amendment is approved," he said, "we may expect a reduction in the total amount of taxes paid, fairer distribution of the tax burden, increased value for real estate and greater activity in construction."

Stewart said the public school system would not be hurt by the limitation proposal, and that tax revenues would be increased "from new sources."

Advocates of the amendment made public a statement of Josiah Flournoy, of Columbus, former head of the Georgia Tax Commission Board, asserting that county officers "either do not know how much tax money they spend, or they are trying to keep the public from finding out."

"If duplication, extravagance and waste were eliminated from local subdivisions of government," the Flournoy statement said, "ample revenue for all services would still be available and no new taxes would be required."

Flournoy urged adoption of the amendment to "put real estate on a fairer basis of taxation and require of other forms of property to make their just contribution to the cost of government."

KAISER REDEEMS COIN TALMED ON BUS DRIVER

Amsterdam, Holland (AP)—Former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, now exiled in Doorn, Holland, has redeemed part of his old imperial currency—a five-mark piece, now valueless.

A Dutch bus driver had the coin "palmed" off on him, but instead of philosophically accepting his loss, he sent the coin to Doorn with a letter addressed to the former emperor.

To return post came a personal letter from the one-time kaiser lord, thanking him for his message and enclosing a Dutch rijksdaalder, a negotiable Dutch coin equivalent in value to the old German five-mark piece.

WELL, BRING ON YOUR HALLOWE'EN WITCH!
